FIRST TECHNOLOGY FEDERAL CREDIT UNION PROMOTES DAVE ULRICH TO VICE PRESIDENT, CREDIT ADMINISTRATION

(Beaverton, Ore.) – June 5, 2017 – First Technology Federal Credit Union, the nation’s premier credit union serving technology companies, has promoted Dave Ulrich to Vice President, Credit Administration. Previously, Ulrich served as First Tech’s Senior Director of Credit Analytics.

In his new position, Ulrich will lead First Tech’s credit analytics team in its mission to implement sound credit policy and risk analysis. He’ll also play an essential role in managing credit activities for mortgage, auto, and credit card portfolios. Ulrich has 15 years of experience in credit management and banking, and prior to joining First Tech, he served as a Credit Risk Consultant at Wells Fargo where he gained extensive experience supervising risk strategy and tracking.

“Dave’s consistent delivery of reliable credit solutions that has helped our organization to deliver the right member experience,” said Marito Domingo, Chief Investment & Credit Officer at First Tech. “We’re excited for Dave and look forward to continue working together to bring outstanding services to our members.”

Since joining First Tech in 2014, Ulrich has been deeply immersed in helping the credit union provide thorough risk analysis and direction to its members. Serving previously as Senior Director of Credit Analysis, he was instrumental in streamlining documentation for loan loss reserves, introducing credit database techniques, and increasing cash flow forecasting efficiency.

Ulrich is a graduate of Portland State University in Portland, Ore.
