FIRST TECH 2013 SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM IS NOW OPEN
Scholarship Program Earmarks Scholarships for Future Technology Leaders

Mountain View, Calif.– Jan. 23, 2013 – First Tech Federal Credit Union, the nation’s premier credit union serving the technology industry, will award seven college scholarships in 2013. First Tech has long supported its members’ higher educational goals, and has revitalized its scholarship program to include four scholarships specifically for students pursuing technology-focused careers. Applications are available on www.firsttechfed.com and are due May 31, 2013.

“Our Scholarship Program is in its 15th year, and we’re both honored and proud to support our members’ higher education goals,” said Greg Mitchell, president and CEO of First Tech. “Moving forward, we’ll invest in developing the future leaders of our industry by earmarking four scholarships specifically for students pursuing tech-focused careers. It’s a natural fit given that we serve the world’s leading technology-oriented companies and their employees.”

Students working towards degrees in computer science, computer engineering, software engineering or a closely related technical field are eligible to apply for one of four tech-focused scholarships while students pursuing non-tech focused careers are eligible to apply for one of three other scholarships.
